

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A clock generating apparatus is provided that includes a first phase lock loop device powered by an analog (or fixed) power supply voltage and a second phase lock loop device powered by the analog power supply voltage and a digital power supply voltage. The second phase lock loop device to output a clock signal having an adaptive frequency based on the digital power supply voltage.